Introductory note

This introductory note does not form a part of the permit

The main features of the permit are as follows.

The operators of Crimplesham Quarry are required to restore the ground levels at the site to make it suitable for agriculture use with ecological benefit. They will carry out this operation utilising overburden material taken from the quarry during the course of the sand and gravel extraction works. However, this does not provide the amount of material required to fully restore the site to the levels required in the planning permission. Therefore, additional material will be needed to restore the site of approximately 67,000 tonnes.

The status log of the permit sets out the permitting history, including any changes to the permit reference number.
